

6516209811.txt

I believe that just because satellite radio is doing a much better job than the local stations, the "local stations" should not be allowed to even pursue this avenue. If they are worried about the competition, then they should just make their programming better, not try to regulate XM radio. This can not be allowed. This would go against everything that America stands for.